Cabinet Expected To Agree on Relief Tax

Jerusalem POST Reporter

Textile and Footwear Controls Ended

A compromise agreement on the question of the relief tax is expected to be reached at a special Cabinet meeting on Wednesday morning following progress made on the issue at the weekly Cabinet meeting in Jerusalem yesterday.

While agreement has been reached on the principle that the funds required to be collected during this fiscal year as an advance payment on future income tax, there was still no agreement on the total sum to be collected. While the original proposal was to collect IL.20m., the General Zionists want to reduce this to IL.10m., and the Progressives propose IL.15m.

There were some indications, however, that the IL.10m. proposal would be accepted, and the Minister of Finance has already prepared plans to collect the money. It would be collected by the income tax authorities according to a special rate scale:

Taxpayers earning IL.1,500 or less annually would be exempt from the unemployment relief tax.

Annual income between IL.1,500 and IL.3,000 would pay a tax of IL.35 per each IL.500 of income.

Income above IL.3,000 would be taxed at IL.35 per each IL.500.

Thus, for example, a person earning IL.3,000 per month (i.e., IL.3,600 a year) would pay no tax for the first IL.1,500, IL.75 for the next IL.1,500 (between IL.1,500 and IL.3,000), and another IL.75 for the IL.600 above IL.3,000. This rate assumes that the amount to be collected is IL.10m., within a year or less.

Under this proposal, the total annual amount of tax due would be collected from wage earners in 12 monthly payments, while from others it would be collected in four bi-monthly instalments.

Taxpayers paying the unemployment relief tax will receive special certificates to be used later over a period of years (possibly from the next fiscal year) to pay income tax and other direct State taxes.

In those years, therefore, the Development Budget will repay to the ordinary budget the loan now given to the Development Budget as an advance on income tax payments.

Progress was also reported on the second subject discussed by the Cabinet, the State Education Bill. On the two points still being discussed — that State schools be permitted to fly only the National Flag and that only the national emblem be sung — agreement has already been reached in principle, and now the wording is being discussed.

The Cabinet is to meet on Wednesday in the usual manner, but under conditions it will be expected that the Cabinet will be able to complete its work on the Education Bill in its entirety, and on Wednesday will authorize the final text.

J'lem Labour Exchange Reopens

The Jerusalem Labour Exchange reopened yesterday morning without incident after having been closed following last Tuesday's attack on the building by a mob of unemployed. Temporary work in 20 factories in addition to the 550 already employed by the Jewish National Fund.

The Jerusalem Municipal Employees' Committee has asked the Histadrut for official backing for a strike against the non-payment of April salaries, a workers' committee spokesman told the POST last night. The strike, affecting some 400 employees, is due to begin on Tuesday, unless wages are paid. The spokesman doubted that Mayor Kariv would fund the funds. The Mayor announced that Sanitary Department personnel would get their salaries during the week and those of other departments later.

The question of reducing municipal staff again brought a Jerusalem Municipal Council meeting to a standstill.

Irish Advise Jews To Keep Fighting

DUBLIN, Sunday (INA). — Apparently no one had told Dublin's Jewish community that Ireland was now an independent State. When last week he received a delegation of Jewish leaders who were holding a European conference in the Irish capital, the Mayor expressed sympathy for the Jewish cause and advised the Jews to use methods similar to those used by the British against the British. Palestine would then soon be rid of British troops!

S. African Liberals For 'Equality' Party

CAPE TOWN, Sunday (AP). — The South African Liberal Association decided here yesterday to form a political party based on the following principles:

1. The essential dignity of every human being irrespective of race, colour or creed, and the maintenance of his fundamental rights.

2. The right of every human being to develop to the fullest extent of which he is capable, consistent with the rights of others.

3. The maintenance of the rule of law and order.

4. No person to be barred from participating in the Government and other democratic processes by reason only of race, colour or creed and that political rights based on a common franchise roll should be extended to all suitably qualified persons.

The National President of the new party is Mrs. Margaret Ballinger, one of three "white" members of the Lower House representing the interests of native peoples. The National Chairman is Dr. Oscar Weinberg, a prominent socialist worker for natives in Cape Town. Vice-Presidents are: Alan Paton, author of "Cry, the Beloved Country," and Leo Marquard, son of a Dutch Reformed pastor in the Orange Free State and a prominent educationalist.

Membership of the party is open to all who subscribe to its principles, including natives.

French Warn Laos Still Threatened

HANOI, Sunday (UP). — The French Command warned today that while the bulk of the Vietminh army is pulling out from Laos, an elite Communist Division continues to pose a serious threat to central Laos and the Thailand frontier.

A Command spokesman said the Vietminh 304th Division has not followed other units in their withdrawal northwest, but has been left behind around the Franco-Laotian stronghold of Plain de Jarra with the obvious aim of pinning down French units while the so-called "Free Laos" Government sets about consolidating the conquered part of Laos.

No fighting was reported from the invaded Associated State today but the French Command said there will be no relaxation in the defence build-up so long as there is a single Vietminh soldier on the ancient kingdom's soil.

The Command spokesman said the 304th Division will probably continue to harass the two French hedgehogs of Luang Prabang and Plain de Jarra.

Churchill Today to Clarify British Stand on Korea Talks

By GEORGE LICHTHEIM, POST Correspondent

LONDON, Sunday. — When Sir Winston Churchill opens tomorrow's debate on foreign affairs, he is expected to clarify Britain's attitude towards the Korean peace talks and perhaps to the wider problem of inducing both sides to accept a compromise on unification of the country.

There are conflicting reports on this subject, the latest suggesting that Washington is inclined to the withdrawal of all foreign troops in the forefront of the post-armistice talks. There is no longer much doubt that an armistice will come soon, but it is less certain that the Communists will accept the withdrawal of troops and elections for a national government, although these were their own demands when they thought they were winning.

Although urged in some quarters to press partition upon the Americans as a solution likely to find acceptance, Sir Winston is believed to be in sympathy with the American plan, which would offer the Chinese a face-saving retreat from a war they can no longer win.

Washington regards Soviet agreement to Korean unification as a test of its peaceful intentions, and Whitehall is not likely to disagree.

There is less certainty that the two governments will be able to coordinate their Middle East policies. What Sir Winston may have to say about the Suez is expected to leave Egypt in no doubt that Britain cannot contemplate unconditional evacuation. Technical control in Palestine, and the free right of entry in war-time, are now described here as basic minimum

Gen. Nam Insists Political Talks To Rule on PoW's

PANMUNJOM, Sunday (UP). — The U.N. and Communists locked horns today over the question of whether prisoners refusing a return to Communism should be turned over to a post-armistice political conference.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, in answering a question put forward by the Allies yesterday, said the problem "will not naturally arise at all" because all prisoners held in neutral custody will be returned home after having signed a statement "voluntarily" to their own side.

Lieut. Gen. William Harrison, senior U.N. delegate, said this was "more than doubtful."

"If the armistice delegates cannot reach agreement," he said, "how could we hope that a political conference could do so?" Harrison said he feared that prisoners could be held in indefinite captivity while the conference debated their fate.

Harrison admitted that some of the questions were "what appeared to be details," but said they were designed to bring out "whether an agreement in a matter of principle would result in a workable agreement or whether the basic design of the armistice would be destroyed by the details."

Harrison then put forward further questions, asking Nam to say exactly what he meant by "voluntarily" and "signed a statement."

Nam said these questions referred to "detailed concrete arrangements," but that his side had already stated its position and he found it unnecessary to repeat it. In closing, he said his side was prepared to reach a speedy agreement which would be reached on the basis of the "detailed, concrete arrangements."

His proposal for another meeting was accepted.

Egypt 'Washed Hands' Of Talks with Britain—Nagib

Nasser Traces Failure of Parleys

CAIRO, Sunday. — General Nagib today warned Britain that "Egypt is now ready to pay with the hot blood of her sons for her complete independence." He said that the evacuation talks were at a complete deadlock.

The Prime Minister was speaking at the ceremonial burial of the "unknown Egyptian soldier" to mark the fifth anniversary of the Palestine war. The ceremony was attended by the Revolutionary Council and the Arab League States' Foreign Ministers.

He said, "We are nearing a great battle. We have washed our hands of Anglo-Egyptian negotiations and should be grateful to Britain for it."

Nagib added that Egypt entered the Palestine war unprepared. "But now the Egyptian nation is ready to defend her sacred rights."

Nagib's Aide, General Abdul Nasser, told a press conference that Egypt had agreed to all the guarantees that Britain might "reasonably demand" concerning maintenance of the Suez Canal base.

"We agreed to maintain the base and all its equipment," he said. "We agreed to keep there a number of experts, including Britons. But," he went on,

"Britain took this position of ours as a starting point for bargaining and manoeuvring. Britain insists on keeping her personnel there for an indefinite time. This means that Britain wants to stay in Suez and is seeking our agreement to a disguised occupation."

Asked what would happen if the deadlock continued, Nasser answered, "We are not diplomats. We are revolutionaries who want freedom. We cannot have within our country foreign troops who might prove hostile."

A growing majority of Egyptians are more and more convinced that talks with Britain are of no avail. They have been urging us to stop talking and begin to act. What we want is freedom, not a puppet state. We will take this freedom at any price."

He emphasized that no consideration of national security will stop Egypt in her struggle. "We are ready to accept any friendly suggestion but we shall never stop striving for our primary, sacred aim."

Turkish Army Group To Visit Egypt

ANKARA, Sunday (AP). — A Turkish military mission is expected to make a courtesy visit to Egypt in the near future to study the current situation here.

The mission, headed by Brigadier-General Hasan Raghib, has been inspecting Turkish military schools, airfields, and field units for the past week.

The Egyptian delegation has not conducted any political or military discussions while here. However, diplomatic sources say they believe that the Egyptian party's visit to Turkey is an indication "to further approach."

NEW YORK, Sunday (AP). — Seven members of an Egyptian military mission arrived here by plane today en route to Washington.

No Date Set for Austrian Reparations Parleys

VIENNA, Sunday (UP). — The Jewish Community in Austria and the Committee for Jewish Restitution Claims Against the Austrian State have formed an executive committee to act as the authoritative negotiator in the forthcoming claims with the Austrian Government. A spokesman for the group said, however, that no date has been fixed for the conference.

Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab promised last month that Austria would open discussions with Jewish world organizations to consider Jewish restitution claims against Austria. The negotiations will include claims against the Austrian State from individuals, and the problem of heirless Jewish property. Under Austrian law, all heirless property is automatically confiscated by the State, but the Jewish organizations have repeatedly demanded that such property be restored to the Jewish community.

Kirkpatrick Named New Foreign Office Head

LONDON, Sunday (Reuters). — Sir Ivor Kirkpatrick, British High Commissioner in Germany, has been appointed permanent head of the Foreign Office, replacing Sir William Strang who is retiring because of age, it was announced today.

Sir Frederick Hoyer Millar, 52, permanent representative to the NATO Council, is to replace Sir Ivor in Germany. His place will be taken by Sir Christopher Steel, Minister in Washington.

Sir Ivor Kirkpatrick, 56, was the first British Civil High Commissioner to be appointed in West Germany after the establishment of the Federal Republic of Germany and the replacement of the Allied military government.

During the war he was for some time in charge of the overseas service of the B.B.C. He is a Catholic. Sir William Strang reached the Foreign Office in 1945, and was one of the first to see the need for a permanent British presence in Germany. He was knighted by King George VI in 1946. He will take effect in the autumn.

Arabs Want Their Own Security Pact

CAIRO, Sunday. — The Foreign Ministers of the Arab States met at the Arab League Council this morning to endorse their recommendations for a security pact.

Mr. Dulles' telegram, according to Cairo Radio, they are to tell Mr. Dulles that the Arab League collective security pact forms a sufficient basis for an overall Middle East defence arrangement to which they feel they "ought to contribute."

They are also to tell him that no negotiations can take place with Israel until the Arab refugees are returned to their homes.

They also decided to allocate $2,500,000 for propaganda, in aid of the League's efforts to secure the original Palestine partition scheme.

In using temporary relief for the refugees, the League Council said that special provisions would have to be made "for those Arabs living in territories occupied by Israel."

The Syrian and Egyptian Ambassadors in Washington have arrived in their respective countries to be present during Mr. Dulles' visit. Lebanese President Camille Chamoun has ordered the Army to "be at the ready" next Saturday to quell any possible Communist disturbances during Mr. Dulles' visit to Beirut, ANA reported.

Dulles in AZORES

AZORES, Sunday (Reuters). — U.S. Secretary of State Dulles arrived at Lagos airfield on the Azores today on his way to begin his Middle East tour.

The Portuguese Governor of the island, Dr. Seabra Mendes, and U.S. officials greeted him and his party.

"Britain took this position of ours as a starting point for bargaining and manoeuvring. Britain insists on keeping her personnel there for an indefinite time. This means that Britain wants to stay in Suez and is seeking our agreement to a disguised occupation."

Asked what would happen if the deadlock continued, Nasser answered, "We are not diplomats. We are revolutionaries who want freedom. We cannot have within our country foreign troops who might prove hostile."

Wilson to Moscow FOR TRADE TALKS

LONDON, Sunday (Reuters). — Former Labour President of the Board of Trade Harold Wilson left here for Berlin tonight en route to Moscow for talks with Soviet trade officials, chiefly on timber exports.

Bonn Registers German Property in Israel

BONN, Sunday (INA). — Former owners of German property confiscated by Israel in 1950 have been asked by the German Federal Ministry of Finance to file claims for their losses within 4 months. Negotiations will begin shortly, it was said.

The obligation to pay full compensation for all confiscated German property was assumed by Israel last September in a companion agreement to the Reparations Agreement. Negotiations to fix the value of property owned by German Catholics and Protestants will begin in Luxembourg on May 15.

The present public announcement, which refers to non-Catholic property, instructs all individual Germans to register their claims with the "Delegation of the Templars" in Bonn.

Cambodia to Receive Greater Freedom

PARIS, Sunday (Reuters). — Agreement on ways and means of giving practical effect to Cambodia's legal independence was announced here yesterday after conversations in Paris between the Cambodian Premier and the French Ministry of Associated States.

Cambodia is one of the three Associated States of Indo-China. A joint Franco-Cambodian communique said they had agreed on "adjustments in the application of the conventions between France and Cambodia, destined to assure the full sovereignty of Cambodia in military, judicial, economic and financial matters and to strengthen the effectiveness of the com-

The Paris conversations started after King Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia shocked French opinion by saying in a New York speech that unless Cambodia's independence was made effective, there was a risk of the Cambodians making a common cause with Communist-led Vietnam and Indo-China.

'Israel Foreign Policy Mistaken' — Kimche

Israel was following a line of error in foreign policy owing to its failure to realize that a new situation had emerged in the Middle East, Mr. John Kimche, editor of the London "Jewish Observer and Middle East Review," said in a lecture at the Touring Club in Jerusalem on Saturday night. Discussing Foreign Minister Sharet's statement last month on the Suez Canal evacuation, Mr. Kimche said that the withdrawal of the British

The new regime in Egypt could not be forced to do anything by pressure from the U.S. or the U.K. and certainly would not be. The newly-adapted Israeli attitude that events in Egypt are its vital concern was therefore most dangerous and was putting Israel in the position of a "gendarme of western imperialism" in Arab eyes, the lecturer stated.

He concluded by advising that Israeli policy should be one of more direct contact with the U.S. and the U.K. rather than through the Middle East Defence Organization which in any event was not making progress; otherwise it was creating enormous obstacles to satisfactory relations with Middle East countries, the years to come.

Dr. A. Nebenzahl was in the chair.

Surrenders Fortune To Marry Non Jew

NEW YORK, Sunday (UP). — A 26 year-old Jewish Park Avenue heiress seems prepared to give up an income of $8,500.

Miss Jean Tanbura, heiress of her great-grandfather, Abraham Rosenthal, silk importer who died in 1931, is engaged to marry a Mr. D. Kelley. She asked a Surrogate court to rule on the terms of the will. Yesterday it ruled that it upheld that part of the will which stated: "No descen-

Miss Tanburn had been due to receive her legacy on May 24, her 21st birthday. She was not available for comment today but friends said she was determined to proceed with her plans.

Similar Programme for 1956 Games

MEXICO CITY, (UP). — The programme of the Olympic Games at Melbourne, Australia, in 1956 will be "similar" to last year's Helsinki games, it was announced.

Although changes in the set-up of the Games were discussed during the 48th meeting of the International Olympic Committee here, further study is necessary before they can be put into effect, an official summary of the I.O.C. said.

"Until then, no new sports will be added and none will be dropped and the Melbourne Games will be similar to the Helsinki Games of 1952," the summary said.

The Committee announced that its next meeting will be in Athens, Greece, May, 1964.

The following schedule for regular Olympic Games is listed by the committee:

1. All-Asian Games—Manila, Philippines Islands—May, 1965.

1934; 2. Mediterranean—May, 1935; 3. Barcelona—May, 1936; 4. 7th Olympic Games—Berlin—1936; 5. The Australian Olympics Committee had informed the International Committee that it proposed to hold the 1956 Games in Melbourne from November 23 to December 8, 1956.

The Australian Committee plans to enlarge the City Cricket Ground at Melbourne as the main stadium, to build a new swimming pool and a new velodrome for cycling at a cost of £280,000 and 195,000 respectively.

In addition, Melbourne proposes to provide an Olympic Village to house 6,000 competitors and officials at a cost of £16m., to be advanced by the Commonwealth Governments. The rowing and canoeing events will be held at Lake Wendouree, Bellare, 110 kilometres inland from Melbourne.
